Among the little social gatherings in this city yesterday was one of eight debutantes, whose bright, vivid and entertaining conversation in the pictorial and gesture language so common to this class and novel and interesting to others, showed that they, too, were spending a pleasant Thanksgiving and that, too, like folks not similarly afflicted. Messrs. NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The stock market this morning was again unusually quiet, and while displaying some weakness in the early trading was lifted suddenly and rapidly afterward, and very large advances were made in many of the leading stocks. The opening figures showed it regaining the gains of Wednesday afternoon, fractional losses of 1/2 per cent. being recorded in some cases. The general list, however, showed developed unusual strength and the losses in most cases were recovered. The advances, being so sudden, came to an end equally as sudden, and the top prices were not maintained. The market, which had developed great activity during the rise, became again quiet, and at eleven o'clock was quiet and barely steady as to figures, but displaying a strong undertone.
